FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Wyoming Hospitals Receive Quality Health Care Awards

Cheyenne, Wyo., (Aug. 9, 2018) — Mountain-Pacific Quality Health is pleased to announce the winners of the 2018 Wyoming Hospital Quality Awards. The awards were presented to seven Wyoming hospitals during the Wyoming Quality Health Care Conference on August 9, 2018 in Cheyenne.

Quality awards are given out each year to recognize Wyoming hospitals for their undying commitment to improving patient care. All recipients were required to reach six quality goals, including milestones in patient satisfaction, patient and family engagement and clinical care. Mountain-Pacific celebrates these hospitals and looks forward to another year of excellence in Wyoming health care.

“We are honored to recognize the outstanding efforts and dedication of these hospitals in providing high quality, compassionate care to their patients,” said Pat Fritz, Mountain-Pacific Wyoming director. “The staff and leadership at all of these hospitals has shown their continual commitment to improve health care in our state. We truly appreciate their dedication and hard work.”

Seven hospitals received the Quality Excellence Award:

- Memorial Hospital of Sweetwater County, Rock Springs
- North Big Horn Hospital, Lovell
- Campbell County Health, Gillette
- Powell Valley Healthcare, Powell
- Washakie Medical Center, Worland
- Memorial Hospital of Converse County, Douglas
- Hot Springs County Memorial Hospital, Thermopolis

All Wyoming hospitals are eligible for Hospital Quality Awards. Award-winning hospitals range from small, rural hospitals to large, urban hospitals. Mountain-Pacific will continue to partner with Wyoming hospitals to help ensure that every patient receives the safest, highest quality of care possible.
